

Word & World: Theology for Christian Ministry

ESSAY PRIZE FOR DOCTORAL CANDIDATES

(Information disponible en anglais seulement)

An opportunity for your essay to be published in Word & World

For students enrolled in accredited Ph.D. or Th.D. programs in theology or religious studies (or equivalent research degree programs).

Amount: A prize of $1,000

(Essays Due by November 1)

This prize is designed to encourage scholarship and writing for the church. Essays should be devoted to topics that promote “theology for Christian ministry” and should be written in a lively style that is fully accessible to those engaged in the practice of Christian ministry. Essays should meet conventional scholarly standards for such an essay.

Essays, which must be accompanied by an official submission form, must be received by November 1 and should be 3500 words in length (plus or minus 10 percent). Essays will be judged according to the criteria listed on the submission form.

- Essay Submission Form (Click here for Html Format or MS Word Format)
- Word & World Style Sheet
- Learn more about the Journal on this web site: "About Word & World" "Word & World's Mission"

All essays, not only the winner, will be considered for publication in Word & World. All finalists will receive a free subscription to the journal.

Should no entry be deemed satisfactory, the Editorial Board reserves the right not to award a prize this year.

Word & World home: <http://www.luthersem.edu/word&world>

Address essays or requests for further information to :

Dr. Frederick J. Gaiser
Editor, Word & World
2481 Como Ave., St. Paul, MN 55108
Phone: 651-641-3210
e-mail: fgaiser@luthersem.edu