

CENTRE FOR SAFEGUARDING MINORS AND VULNERABLE PERSONS

SEMINAR UNDERSTANDING PREVENTS ABUSE

November 4-7, 2020

DCA 6363

Dr. Stéphane Joulain

Online only

In this seminar, we will examine the etiology of the criminal behaviors of sexual perpetrators and will try to understand their motivations. Through the exploration of research on these abnormal behaviours, we will see the different treatment models. We will specifically focus on the problematic of sexual abuse by consecrated persons.

The seminar is offered in English

Price:

General public: $300
Regular students (not for credits) and employees of Saint Paul: $50
Regular students to obtain credits: normal tuition fees apply

Where:

The COVID-19 outbreak prevents us from holding the seminar in person safely, therefore it will be held exclusively online.

The course will be available in both synchronous ("live") and asynchronous (recorded) format.

Stéphane Joulain (above), French priest, member of the Society of the Missionaries of Africa. Doctor in Counselling and Spirituality from Saint Paul University, Ottawa. Specialist in the treatment of sexual offenders and victimology. Currently Coordinator to the Integrity of Ministry for his Missionary Society. Consultant for many international religious congregations, professor for the Course for Consecrated Life organized by the Congregation for Consecrated Life – Vatican. Trainer and international speaker. Author of many articles, books, and book chapters.

To contact us:
CPCS@ustpaul.ca

Saint Paul University
223 Main Street
Ottawa, Ontario
Canada
K1S 1C4

1 800 637-6859

ustpaul.ca