

Graduate Diploma in Canonical Practice

SPECIALIZATION IN MARRIAGE LAW AND PROCEDURES

JANUARY 2019 - MAY 2019

The Faculty of Canon Law of Saint Paul University, Ottawa, announces a Graduate Diploma in Canonical Practice (GDGP) with a specialization in Marriage Law and Procedures. To accommodate participants who retain their regular employment, the diploma offers courses both at a distance and on campus.

Typically, persons interested in acquiring university education in canon law over a short period of time already hold a position of responsibility and cannot be excused from their professional obligations for several years or months at a time.

This diploma is intended for those who serve in tribunal ministry, or are preparing for such ministry – particularly as auditors, procurators, advocates, notaries, tribunal directors. The courses study the Church's substantive and procedural marriage law. The diploma culminates in a seminar on tribunal practice which integrates and complements the preceding courses.

In keeping with the focus of the Faculty of Canon Law, the courses intend to convey both a complete understanding of the canons and their practical application.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Prospective participants must hold an honours baccalaureate, or provide evidence of an equivalent program, with an average grade of at least "B". Typically, participants must have 18 credits in theology or religious studies. A basic understanding of canon law is required. The Faculty of Canon Law reserves the right to assess individual applications and stipulate specific prerequisites for a concentration or a course, or to waive one or more prerequisites in view of the candidate's proven pastoral or professional experience.
