Priests are, however, only 24, besides Alexander McDonell himself and his coadjutor, Gaulin [Rémi Gaulin], bishop of Thabraca, a number that is not sufficient to assist properly the many immigrants constantly pouring into the country. The building of a seminary is the only solution, but the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide," that in the past contributed 500 scudi towards the needs of the bishop [Alexander McDonell], is now unable to assist him. DESCRIPTION: The archbishop of Québec [Joseph Signay] had asked [in his letter of 02 nov 1835; see Cal. 1831-46 III 124] that the converted infidels [i.e., natives], had they more than one wife, be allowed to keep the one they like most, instead of the first one. The Jesuit Kohlmann [Anthony Kohlmann], to whom the matter was referred, gave two opinions, of which only the first one was completely negative. He died the day after [on 10 apr 1836 or 11 apr 1836] a new letter was written to him on the matter. The pope [Gregory XVI], to whom the matter was referred by the writer, decided to take it before the Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office. The following documents are enclosed: [1] a portion of the letter of the archbishop of Québec [Joseph Signay] of 02 nov 1835; [2] The two opinions of Kohlmann [Anthony Kohlmann]; [3] the letter of the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide" [i.e., Angelo Mai's] of 9 apr [09 apr 1836; see Cal. 1831-46 V 124]; [4] a portion of the History of Paraguay by Charlevoix [Pierre-François-Xavier de Charlevoix], 2nd tome; [5] a portion of Thesaurus Indicus, by Diego de Aiendaro [Diego de Acendaro?], 2nd book, 4th chapter; [6] a copy of the proceedings of the general congregation of 09 sep 1631 held before Urban VIII dealing with poligamy; [7] the portion of a letter written on the same topic by the bishop of Nilopolis, vicar apostolic in Eastern Oceania [Étienne Rouchouze, dated 28 may 1835].

He is thanked for assisting Joseph-Norbert Provencher, bishop of Juliopolis, suggragan bishop to Québec [vicar general, suffragan, and auxiliary bishop to the archbishop of Québec, Joseph Signay] in the Northwest, with the Leopoldine Society. The subsidy that Joseph-Norbert Provencher receives from the English crown is not sufficient for the needs of such a vast mission. Except for Québec and Montréal in Lower Canada, whose patrimonies predate the cession to the British crown, all other British colonies need to be subsidized, in spite of the moneys annually granted by the crown to the vicars apostolic and to the missionaries. The need of the dioceses to be erected is even greater. [The balance of this item deals with the United States, Detroit, Vincennes, Mobile].

According to new information received, however, the clergy's involvement in island politics seem to have grown since the addressee's return. This attitude must be made to cease. It partially answered the addressee's letters of 12 nov [12 nov 1836], 28 [28 nov 1836] and 29 dec 1836. As for the requested faculties, some of them, herewith enclosed, were granted on 07 jan 1838. DESCRIPTION: The writer acknowledges the addressee's letter written from London on 28 apr 1838, containing a description of the state of religion in his vicariate apostolic [vicariate apostolic of Newfoundland]. The writer is congratulated for the land he received from the British crown, on which a school and a church are to be built. This good relationship with the crown, however, is in contrast with information received by the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide" around 1837, which reported of excessive clergy's involvement in the politics of Newfoundland. The letter of the pope [Gregory XVI] of 04 jan 1838, and the letter of the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide" [Giacomo Filippo Fransoni] of 5 [05 jan 1838; see Cal. 1831-46 V 162] touched on this topic. Contrary to what the reports coming from Newfoundland write, Fleming [Michael Anthony Fleming] seems to be in excellent terms with the British crown, as he just received a land in the island where he is to build a school and a church.

RECIPIENT: Daniel Murray, archbishop of Dublin, in Dublin
TYPE OF DOCUMENT: Copy
DESCRIPTION: Fleming [Michael Anthony Fleming], bishop of Carpasia and vicar apostolic in Newfoundland, informed that the priest Yore [Thomas Anthony Ewer] had left £500 to the vicariate apostolic in Newfoundland, not to the Irish College in Rome, to provide permanently for students from the islands. [In his letter of 28 jul 1838; see Cal. 1831-46 V 181], the writer asked Fleming [Michael Anthony Fleming] to confer with the addressee, but that letter seems not to have been received by Fleming [Michael Anthony Fleming]. The addressee is asked to explain the matter and send to Rome a copy of the testament of Yore [Thomas Anthony Ewer].

DESCRIPTION: In the past few years, the bishops of the American [North American] regions sent several students to Collegio Urbano without being properly authorized, causing a number of problems to its administration. In the future, youngsters are not to be sent, unless a request is filed by their bishops to whom proper faculties were granted. Furthermore, proper faculties must be requested at least one year prior to the youngsters' departure for Rome, in order to allow enough time for the answer from Rome to be received. There are so many students in Collegio Urbano at this time, that for some time bishops should refrain from sending new students. DESCRIPTION: The writer recalls his letter to the addressee of 25 aug [25 aug 1838; see Cal. 1831-46 V 184], here summarized. In his letter to the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide" of 12 sep [12 sep 1838], Murray [Daniel Murray], archbishop of Dublin, here quoted at length, makes clear that the donation of Yore [Thomas Anthony Ewer] towards a Newfoundland student's board and lodging at Collegio Urbano was made when he was alive. That pledge, therefore, is not contained in his testament. As the said money has already been given to the Irish College, the addressee can refrain from sending a copy of the testament of Yore [Thomas Anthony Ewer]. On the other hand, he is invited to send a Newfoundland student to Collegio Urbano.

RECIPIENT: Ludovico Altieri, archbishop of Ephesus, nuncio in Vienna
TYPE OF DOCUMENT: Copy
DESCRIPTION: The writer acknowledges the addressee's letter of 1 mar [01 mar 1839], which informs of the grants recently made by the Leopoldine Society to the bishops in the United States. The writer regrets that no grant has been assigned to Kenrick [Francis Patrick Kenrick], bishop of Arathia, coadjutor of the bishop of Philadelphia, and so does the bishop's brother [Peter Richard Kenrick], who is still in Rome, having been sent to Europe to provide to the needs of their church. To the debts incurred upon by Kenrick [Francis Patrick Kenrick], he has recently added another 20,000 scudi that were used to purchase the building for a seminary. The addressee is asked to use his influence on the behalf of Kenrick [Francis Patrick Kenrick].

DESCRIPTION: The writer has supported with the pope [Gregory XVI] the addressee's position with regard to Flaget [Benoît-Joseph Flaget], bishop of Bardstown. However, since the latter has recently petitioned the pope [Gregory XVI] asking to be soon returned to his church, where his coadjutor [Guy-Ignace Chabrat] has threatened to resign, the pope [Gregory XVI] believes he must now grant Flaget [Benoît-Joseph Flaget] permission to return. DESCRIPTION: The writer acknowledges the addressee's letter of 15 [15 mar 1839] and encloses a letter just received from the bishop of Cincinnati [John Baptist Purcell], in which the latter complains that Martin, OP [Thomas Martin] bluntly refused admission to the Dominican College of St. Joseph to two of the writer's students, contrary to the rights of the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide." The addressee is asked to intervene with Martin [Thomas Martin]. The writer emphasizes the fact that the Dominicans should be grateful towards the bishop [John Baptist Purcell], who might forget about the addressee's against the admission of the two students, and recalls the 1,000 scudi earned by the Dominicans through a land sale in Ohio, and who still possess 300 arpents of most fertile land there.

DESCRIPTION: With regard to the addressee's queries [submitted while the addressee was in Rome], the following opinions are given: [1] on the dispute between the addressee and the bishop of Detroit [Friedrich Johann Konrad Rese] on the boundaries of their dioceses, the apostolic letter issued by Gregory XVI on 17 jun 1833 must be observed, which states that the diocese of Cincinnati will include Ohio; [2] on the legacy left by the priest Joffroy to the Leopoldine Society, the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide" has already decided that the income is to be divided equally between the dioceses of Cincinnati and of Detroit, and the nuncio in Vienna [Ludovico Altieri] is responsible for the allocation; [3] on the rent that the Dominican province of St. Joseph should pay, the apostolic brief issued by Leo XII on 02 may 1828 should be observed, which states that the Dominicans will pay $300 to the bishop of Cincinnati [John Baptist Purcell]; in his letter of 21 mar 1839, the master general of the Dominican Order [Angelo Ancarani] stated that he was going to instruct the Dominican provincial of Ohio accordingly; [4] on Antoine Ganilh, the writer informed Guy-Ignace Chabrat, bishop of Bolina and coadjutor of the bishop of Bardstown [Benoît-Joseph Flaget]; [5] on the faculties granted by the pope [Gregory XVI], they should have reached the addressee by now; [6] on the Association de la Propagation de la Foi in Lyons, the writer strongly recommended that a subsidy be granted to the addressee in a letter to its president [V. de Verna], a copy of which is enclosed.

DESCRIPTION: The writer acknowledges the addressee's letter of 3 dec [03 dec 1838]. Faculties were granted by the pope [Gregory XVI] and are herewith enclosed, but other requests were not, such as the power to delegate his faculties in certain cases (as this is already included in faculties granted according to Formula One) and the holiday of the Conception. With regard to the addressee's resignation, reference is made to the previous letter of the Sacred Congregation "de Propaganda Fide" to the addressee, dated 19 dec 1837, and to the apostolic brief of 10 mar 1837, in which he is allowed provisionally to leave the administration of his diocese to his coadjutor [Ignace Bourget].

This procedure has always been followed in all British colonies in the Indies [Asia], in Africa, and in America [Newfoundland, Northwest], where the size of the community required pastors who possessed episcopal powers, which are in a similar situation as Gibraltar. DESCRIPTION: The writer acknowledges the addressee's letter of 21 feb 1839. Since evidently the letters to the addressee must have gone astray, the writer encloses copies of his letters dated 17 mar [17 mar 1838] and 10 apr 1838, together with a copy of the faculties that had been granted to the vicar apostolic [William Fraser, vicar apostolic in Nova Scotia] on 1 apr [01 apr 1838]. Other than the native that the vicar apostolic [William Fraser, vicar apostolic in Nova Scotia] had been allowed to send to Collegio Urbano in the letter of 17 mar [17 mar 1838], he is now empowered to send one more of his students, of good quality and showing ecclesiastical vocation. Faculties for the vicar apostolic [William Fraser, vicar apostolic in Nova Scotia], as requested in the writer's letter of 21 feb [21 feb 1839] are enclosed, together with the copy of a decree of 30 apr 1838 regarding the relationship with the local Trappists, men and women.

The writer suggests that all subsidies be forwarded to Baltimore [Samuel Eccleston, archbishop of Baltimore], who will in turn apportion them among the missions and churches of the diocese of Detroit. As for the activity of the Association de la Propagation de la Foi in Canada [Lower Canada, Upper Canada], this is the first piece of information received by the writer. He will then immediately write to the bishop of Montréal [Jean-Jacques Lartigue], so that, if the said association had been illegally established, he would re-establish the necessary unity.
