

Bursary 2018 Two bursaries of $1,000 each

The Sophia Research Centre at Saint Paul University is pleased to offer a bursary to support women studying full time at Saint Paul University. Applications will be considered in light of the candidates' contribution to: 1) the analysis of social systems and their impact on women and children, leading to social, economic or ecological justice; or 2) contributions to initiatives for the resolution of conflicts impacting women and children, or to research in connection with counselling; or 3) research related to the position of women in society or church; or 4) research on women and theology or spirituality.

APPLICANTS should:

- Demonstrate a clear interest or direct involvement regarding women's issues;
- Have an excellent academic record;
- Submit two letters of reference at the university level
- Have not accepted other awards that altogether exceed $10,000 per year.

HOW TO APPLY:

- Complete the application form, including information on financial need;
- In a one page essay demonstrate your active interest in women and social justice, theology, spirituality or ecology, and how your studies reflect these interests;
- Provide two university-level letters of recommendation plus academic transcripts.

SELECTION CONSIDERATIONS

- The candidate's ability to complete her academic program successfully;
- The degree to which the candidate meets the goals of this bursary;
- Excellent academic record;
- Genuine interest in women and social justice, ecology, theology or spirituality;
- Financial need.

THE SELECTION COMMITTEE will be chosen by the Board of Directors of the Sophia Research Centre. They will give priority to the candidate who best responds to the admission criteria and selection considerations.

Closing date for applications: January 31, 2018
