

The Canadian Counselling and Psychotherapy Association Research or Professional Article Award

(Information valid seulement en anglais)

The Canadian Counselling and Psychotherapy Association (CCPA) is a national bilingual association providing professional counsellors and psychotherapists with access to exclusive educational programs, certification, professional development, and direct contact with professional peers and specialty groups. The purpose of this award is to recognize research or publications of CCPA members.

Institution: The Canadian Counselling and Psychotherapy Association (CCPA)

Deadline: December 1st, 2019

Amount: $450

Eligibility Criteria:

- The article must be published in the Canadian Journal of Counselling and Psychotherapy or COGNICA in the two years preceding the award event;
- The author must be a CCPA member in good standing. In the case of multiple authors, at least one author must belong to the association;
- The article must report the results of an empirical inquiry in counselling or its related fields.

To nominate:

- Submit one (1) electronic copy of the article;
- If there is more than one author, indicate those who are primary writers and those who, as secondary writers, contributed to the research.

General guidelines of assessment:

- Originality;
- Methodology;
- Writing style and overall quality of presentation;
- Strengths and limitations;
- Findings and results;
- Importance of the work to Counselling in Canada.

For more information regarding the scholarship and the application process, please refer to the link below:

<https://www.ccpa-accp.ca/membership/awards/awards-policy/#research>