

ParentsNeed Scholarship
(Information disponible seulement en Anglais)

Being a parent while educating yourself in university can be a challenge. Parents who study are often faced with time and money constraints. That's why ParentsNeed has created a yearly scholarship designed for students who show themselves able to find balance between studying and raising their children.

Deadline: December 1st, 2019;

Amount: $1,000;

Eligibility Criteria:

- All students who are currently enrolled in high school, university, or trade school.

Application Process:

- To apply, please submit an article on the topic of how to find the right balance between studying and raising children. The article should be no less than 1000 words and no longer than 2000 words. In your article, try to include the following:
 - Describe the challenges of studying and parenting;
 - Talk about things you have done to find balance and the positive results of your actions;
 - Discuss how organization can play a key role in achieving this balance.
- Articles should not exceed 2000 words. Once your article is ready, please send it to us as an email attachment to scholarship@parentsneed.com in PDF format; please include:
 - Your contact details: full name, telephone contact number, and email address;
 - The school you got to (even if you have not yet started, so long as you have been accepted);
 - Evidence that shows that you are attending or have been accepted to the above school;
 - Your major.

For more information pertaining this scholarship and the application process, please refer to the link below:

<https://parentsneed.com/student-scholarship//>